Joe Johnson, the rebel general, writes a letter in favor of Greeley, and adds that he loves his "old war associates of all others in this world next to his wife."

A letter from Huntsville, Alabama, from a leading Republican, claims that State for Grant and Wilson by ten thousand majority. Ex-Senator Warner has taken no followers worth mentioning to the support of Greeley and the party, united by his departure, is also stronger and more efficient.

"The election of Buckalew would be Grant's political death," says the New York Express, and so chimes in all the Democratic and Liberal papers. "Let us defeat Hartranft, and thus secure Pennsylvania for Greeley." The Greeley-Buckalew game is a desperate one, and the ringleaders, M'Clure, Forney and others will leave no fraud unattempted to carry their point.

A Lieutenant of Infantry passing through Baltimore, was solicited to make a speech before a Democratic assemblage, and on being conducted to the stand, he arose and said: "Gentlemen if you have measured me for a Democrat you have measured the wrong man, for if I had my way, a great many of you would eat hell in breakfast tomorrow morning."

Out For Grant.—The Tidioute Journal (Warren county), published by G. A. Needle & Co., has hauled down the neutral flag and came out boldly for Grant, Wilson and the Republican State ticket. The editors say they "cannot longer reconcile with duty the position of non-combatant in a struggle in which we begin to perceive the re-issue of all the old questions of the war." Success to them. They have our best wishes.

The Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, of Mass., an old line Whig, who has been voting the Democratic ticket of late years, has written a letter declaring that he prefers Grant to Greeley. He can see no safety for the country in Greeley's success, and "shrinks from helping to overturn the coach merely to get a new driver, and certainly a far less competent one." This is a hard 'dig' at Horace.

A grand mass convention of the colored men of New England is to be held in Boston at an early day. Such a convention is not needed to confirm the faith of the colored men of Massachusetts, as all who are not ashamed of their color and the mother who bore them are already enlisted under that banner. But the gathering will have a good influence upon the colored men in other parts of the country.

Greeley said: "If the Southern States choose to form an independent nation they have a moral right to do so;" and "whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in." Gen. John A. Dix said: "If any man attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot." No wonder Dix felt insulted at being asked to speak at a Greeley meeting.

Mr. Car Damm, a prominent German Democrat of New York, openly charges that the petition presented by Gov. Hoffman, purporting to have been signed by eighteen thousand Germans, asking for the nomination of Horace Greeley, was a forgery. He says they never signed such a document; but the eighteen thonsand and more who joined with Sigel last fall to crush Tammany will join the Republican party and vote for Grant.

What More?—When a Greeleyite prates about reconciling the South, just ask him what further he would have done than has been done. Does he want the South reconciled, as Greeley appears to do, by paying the late slave holders $400,000,000 for their slaves, by pensioning rebel soldiers, and by paying the immense claims for damages that the South is anxious to present? They have been forgiven their crimes against the nation; they have been admitted to all the rights of citizenship, and the only thing asked of them in return is that they shall be peaceable and respect the persons and property of other people. The Greeleyites would have them "reconciled" by giving them the control of the government—a very dangerous experiment.

THE GREAT CONSPIRACY.

STATEMENT OF AN EYE AND EAR WITNESS.

The Villains Exposed.

The papers opposed to Hartranft have crowded their readers with the cry of corruption ad nauseam. It has been their stock in trade. Like the thief who joins the crowd and yells "stop thief" to draw attention from himself, these men, composed of as corrupt a set of plunderers as ever cursed a State, are urging the cry of corruption against the Republican nominee, to cover their own iniquity. At the recent county meeting of the Republicans of Chester county, a speech was made by Thomas V. Cooper, Esq., member of Assembly, in which he made a plain and most damaging revelation of the cause which lead Forney & Co., to oppose General Hartranft. He said:

I, for one, have good reason to know that in personal and official integrity he is really above reproach. Near the close of the Legislative session of last winter, I was unwillingly brought into contact with those who are now and were then in conspiracy against him, in order that that they might protect themselves. One morning I received a note requesting me to call at one of the rooms of the Lochiel. There I was introduced by one of my constituents, since shown to be one of Evans' securities, to Geo. O. Evans, accused of appropriating $291,000 of the State's money, to Dr. Payne, the attorney Strahan and others. These parties desired me to introduce to the House that morning, a series of resolutions, charging Hartranft with dishonesty in the management of the auditing department, and of Mackey chief of the Treasury. They went into a long explanation of their proposed movement, and endeavored to pledge me that if I became its Legislative champion, my name should be heralded throughout the State and nation as a model reformer. They spoke of their immense power and means—rather of the means backing them—saying they could control $500,000, not for the purchase of votes in support of the resolution, oh! no; that was not even intimated, but as a moral support to the government; that this amount and this support would come through some channel of reform, not named or described.

They named a number of newspapers that could be counted upon to further and back the undertaking by glowing artucles and such evidence as would at least waken suspicion. Among the newspapers named were the New York Sun and Tribune, the Philadelphia Press, Lancaster, Harrisburg, Pittsburg and other papers of large influence. An introduction of their resolutions would be immediately followed by flaming articles from these and other sources, and, if necessary, the question could be pushed in the legislature by speeches, and evidence could be produced sufficient to injure Hartranft's chances of nomination and election. When asked for this evidence a check or draft, a note, one or two private letters, and the books of Yerkes & Co., were shown. An hours examination convinced me that nothing in the least degree tangible was presented, and subsequent developments have shown that every atom of testimony bore only upon private and personal transactions—that nothing in any way connected Hartranft with an improper use of the State funds. When this objection was urged they failed to meet it, and the party plainly showed by word and act that their object was to create an improper suspicion—this for purposes of their own—this, as they were told, with a view to intimidate Hartranft, and prevent any further prosecution of the Claims of the State against Evans. When asked to treat the conversation as confidential, I said that Hartranft ought to know it, that he was a friend and I should tell him. His after conduct would attest his guilt or innocence. Somewhat to my suprise, they manifested a sudden willingness that he should be told, and this was confirmation that the whole of this movement was designed to scare him off from a proper prosecution. A few minutes later I told Hartranft. He replied: "These parties have for the past twenty-four hours been trying to get some one to introduce their resolutions, and only last night, they offered me fifty-eight thousand dollars to withdraw the prosecution, and I refused. The very lowest amount due the State may be based upon the decision or bail fixed by Judge Pearson, and that is $100,000. This suit shall not be withdrawn until the State gets her due, and if these parties want investigation they shall have it." That was the substance of what Hartranft said. Soon followed, not the introduction of the resolutions of Evans & Co., for, in common with myself, every one approached refused to touch them; but those requested by Hartranft, and those which led to the investigations wherein Hartranft was unanimously acquitted and some of the Evans ring condemned.

Have I not shown sufficient to satisfy all that there was a conspiracy here?—a conspiracy to betray the State, if Hartranft would scare, if not, to threaten his chances as a candidate for Governor?—Why, the very papers named by these men as pledges to the "moral support" of their object, each and all, with singular, with more than suspicious unanimity, opposed the State ticket as soon as it was nominated. Yet more, this evidence, then in the private keeping of these men, has since appeared in the columns of the Press, Lancaster Express, and other papers opposing the ticket. Who supplied it? Who else than those still bent upon keeping within their possession the $291,000 retained as commissions for collecting the State war claims?

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS.

CENTRE COUNTY PREPARED FOR THE STRUGGLE—MORE LIGHT ON THE PRESS SLANDERS.

[Special Correspondence of the Phila. Evening Bulletin.]

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 19, 1872.—In the Philadelphia Press of Saturday a correspondent, signing himself 'Paxton,' and writing from Harrisburg, under date of August 15th, gives what purports to be extracts of letters from "nearly thirty gentlemen who have a personal knowledge of the people in the respective localities of their residence," giving him "information as to public feeling in reference to the Republican State ticket," all of which letters speak desparingly of the prospects of Hartranft and Allen. That these letters were manufactured for the purpose by some one individual is manifest from the similarity of style in which they are written.

It is the intention of the writer of this article, however, to refer only to that one of "Paxton's" series of letters which attempts to give the political situation in Centre county, and for that purpose his "information as to the public feeling" in this county is here given, to wit.:

"CENTRE COUNTY."

"Bellefonte, August 4.—The Republican vote in Centre county for Hartranft will be a short one. I will not say what the figures will be, but he will lose, and the cause of his unpopularity is the suspicion that he is a tool of the Camerons. On the whole, Centre Republicanism is not in a very good shape. A great many good men here are waiting to hear from Andy Curtin. We love Andy, and will follow him, because he never led us the wrong way, and never will."

The above was either not written by any one acquainted with the political feeling in Centre county, or else by some one who has wilfully falsified the facts. Gen. Hartranft will not only poll the full Republican vote of the county, but will receive the votes of a number of Democrats, The General was the first choice of the Republicans of this county and was heartily supported by our delegates in the State Convention. He is not looked upon here as the tool of any one, but as the standard-bearer of the party in the State, and as such will be enthusiastically supported by the whole party.

"CENTRE REPUBLICANISM"

was never in better shape than at the present time. A large Republican wigwam has been erected here at the county seat, a Grant, Wilson and Hartranft Club organized, with Roland Curtin, brother of ex-Governor Curtin, as permanent President; and in a short time clubs will be organized throughout the county. Forney's guerilla sheet has not made a ripple here. The party is thoroughly united, and will move in solid column for the whole State ticket.

CURTIN'S COURSE.

There are no good or bad men here waiting to hear from Andy Curtin in order to decide them in their political course. We do love Andy and will follow him for Grant, Wilson and Hartranft, but in no other direction.

If the information which "Paxton" asserts that he has received, "as to public feeling in reference to the Republican State ticket," from the other counties mentioned in his "correspondence" is no nearer the truth than that given from this county, the whole State ticket will be successful on the 8th of October by no less than twenty thousand majority. Centre is all right.

Buckalew voted against the Civil Rights bill, the Fifteenth Amendment, the repeal of the Fugitive Slave law, the Freedman's Bureau and every measure calculated to secure the rights of the blacks. Is it any wonder, then, that his friends fear the colored voters of Pennsylvania? He has had many a whack at the poor negroes; now they propose to have a whack at him.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. BUCKALEW.

HIS DEFENSE OF HIS OWN RECORD.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburg Commercial.]

To the Hon. Charles R. Buckalew:

Sir:—I have just finished the reading of your speech delivered at Lancaster, on Tuesday evening, and I cannot refrain from giving you some of the impressions made in my mind by its perusal.

It would have been much better for you if many of the declarations contained in it had not been made. You would have occupied a loftier pedestal among intelligent people, even of your own party, had you not boasted, as you have, of your vote in the Senate in May, 1864, in support of an amendment to pay the soldiers in gold. You omitted to state who offered that amendment. Was the omission made purposely? You forgot also to remind your hearers that the time was near about the time of your National Democratic Convention—when yourself, and Judge Black, and Judge Thompson, and other leaders, held that the war for the life of the Union and the Republic, was a failure and a cessation of hostilities should be demanded.

You know, sir, as well as any living man, that the whole spirit and intention of that amendment was a blow hostile to the administration and to the government.

What was the price of gold then? You neglected to tell your hearers that. If your measure, so unblushingly paraded and vaunted, had passed, how much would it have cost from a people already harrassed and from a treasury nearly exhausted?

Yes, hostility to the administration—to say nothing worse—dictated that amendment; and by boasting of your vote for it you convict yourself. Self-convicted as you are. I arraign you before the bar of enlightened and loyal public opinion, and demand that, next October, the verdict shall be pronounced against you.

Was it not thought by the schemers that the rejection of this amendment by a Republican Senate would create dissatisfaction, discontent, perhaps mutiny in the ranks of our armies? Considering the time, the place, and all the circumstances, it may well be styled a devlish attempt to produce the results indicated.

Yes, indeed, Mr. Buckalew, you have over-shot the mark.

Since your return from Ecuador, you have lost much of your former adroitness and cunning—so much so that you cannot so easily deceive a thinking people.

The country was dripping with the blood of its heroic defenders; its credit was barely kept up by Herculean efforts; England was furnishing privateers, rovers and blockade runners; France, Spain and Austria were forcing upon a republic at our borders, a monarch and a tool of their own choosing—and you, with your learning, your oratory, and your alleged love of country, and with so many themes to inspire your throbbing heart, never once, to my knowledge, opened your lips in eloquent denunciation of all this wrong, rebellion and insult.

If you made such a speech in the Senate in 1863 or 1864, why not republish it?

Your little "slip-sheet," containing your "essay," was never heard of in the army, and it never afforded consolation to a single soldier. The Senate was the place in which to raise your voice, and to hurl just denunciations against the enemies of the country, whether domestic or foreign.

Instead of this, in May, 1864, a most critical and trying period, you contented yourself with aiding and assisting the enemies of Lincoln and the administration by voting for the gold amendment—thus proving most conclusively the real animus which inspired you and the purposes that lay in the recesses of your heart.

It is idle to con over the catalogue of your votes in the Senate in the expectation of finding there anything to justify the claim that you were a patriot. This barefaced boast is of itself, sufficient.—In making this one admission, and in claiming credit for a vote which was hostile (as if you could gull us), you have said more than enough to satisfy all honorable men that the pith and marrow of the charges against you are true—that in our extreme need you could not entirely forget your earlier political teachings or surmount your former sympathies for the Democratic South.

A Hartranft Soldier.

THE COMPANION OF REBEL INCENDIARIES.

The ridiculous blunder says the Harrisburg Telegraph of nominating a man for Governor of Pennsylvania whose disloyalty is conspicuous, is made more ridiculous by the attempt made to defend him. We have shown by unimpeachable testimony that in 1863-4, while Hartranft was putting his life in peril to protect our homes, Buckalew was traveling hundreds of miles—and into a foreign county—to hold illegal and treasonable conference with rebels engaged in plots to burn and destroy our cities. While Grant was thrilling the land by his spendid victory of Vicksburg, Buckalew was engaged in visiting Clay, Holcombe and Thompson, and Clay, Holcombe and Thompson were in Canada hiring ruffians to burn up the property of Pennsylvanians in the western rivers! Fearful as was the rebel conflicts which Grant and Hartranft were daily forced to meet, the insidious and awful measures employed by Buckalew's friends were a thousand-fold more fearful. Against an army, an army may contend. The laws of war mitigate, in some degree, the horrors of the battle field. But the torch of the incendiary giving the homes of non-combatants to destruction in the hours of sleep, is a savage cruelty unknown to all civilized war. That Buckalew could speak to men engaged in such shocking schemes against our own rebels is enough to damn him. But it was not against his country's enemies these atrocities were leveled; it was against his own constituents! The great cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburg were marked, by name, for destruction! And not only destruction by fire. For, horrible as it is to contemplate such an enormity, the introduction of loathsome and deadly diseases was the declared object of the fields whom Buckalew hastened to Canada to meet and consult! Small-pox and yellow fever were to be introduced to carry havoc to the life of all, as fire was to reduce to ashes the homes of all! All the horrors and destruction that render the battle field ghastly were to be wreaked on women and children, the aged, and the infirm. Not only was death to be the portion of all alike, but death was to come clothed in its most cruel form. The soldier killed by a bullet escapes the terrible agony of a lengthened torture. The wounds endangering, but not destroying, life are healed, even by his enemies, if he fell wounded into their hands. But the awful fate prepared for the helpless of our two great cities by Buckalew's friends at Niagara, had neither mercy of sudden death nor the humanity of a foe! Their portion was to be "the pestilence that walketh in darkness, and the disease that wasteth at noon-day." And when these terrible agents had smitten the helpless populations of our great cities; when every house had its own sorrow and mourning; when the hospitals were filled by the wasting and dying populace, then the added atrocity of the incendiary's torch was to come to complete the ruin not made complete by pestilence! No crime so atrocious as this was ever conceived by the most brutal butcher who has disgraced human nature. No pirate ever wreaked so fearful a vengeance. And yet, while the whole world stood aghast at the discovery of these nameless crimes, we find that invitations were sent to leading Democrats to meet the men engaged in their prepetration! We find further that some of the men so invited accepted the invitations and amongst these, in whom patriotism never had a lodgment, we find Charles R. Buckalew, the Democratic Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

Ex-United States Senator O. P. Stearns, of Minnesota, who has been reported for Greeley, hastens to deny the charge. How he stands he states in vigorous language thus: "I have only to say that I never had any intention of supporting Mr. Greeley, and never knowingly gave any one any reason to suppose I had. I believe the Republican party is the only party now in existence which has sufficient coherency, sagacity and courage to administer the government successfully, and at the same time grapple with and correctly solve the great questions which every man of ordinary foresight can see he just ahead; and believing that, I expect to give my vote and whatever influence I have in support of the party and its nominees.

Minnesota lately had a water spout four miles wide. The papers say so.

GROWING SUSPICIOUS.

There seems to be grave doubts in the minds of many Greeley adherants that Mr. Buckalew, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is not heartily and unreservedly in favor of the Baltimore nominee, and much uneasiness is already beginning to be felt. The fact that the Democratic organs are constantly advocating the necessity of every Liberal Republican, so-called, voting squarely for Buckalew, leads to the suspicion that trickery is contemplated. Many Democrats—nay hundreds—will not, under any circumstances, vote for Greeley; but if they can succeed in getting the Republicans to vote for their candidate for Governor, they will laugh immoderately at the trick played on the gentleman of liberal views. It is contended by those who are asked to vote for him that they have a right to know how he stands on this question, and many declare that they will know. That there is a disposition to dodge is evident. At the Democratic county convention in Bloomsburg, the other day, no allusion was made to the question.

In Williamsport the substantial old Democrats, who are strict adherants to the usages of their party, are exceedingly anxious that the few Republicans who are expressing a preference for Greeley should vote squarely for Mr. Buckalew. This, they contend, would be a strong mark of their sincerity, and entitle them to full fellowship in the Democratic party. Should these Republicans suffer themselves to be hoodwinked in this way, march up to the polls, arm in arm with their Bourbon friends, and cast their votes for Mr. Buckalew, without any assurance that he and his friends will support Greeley, they deserve to be laughed at by everybody. They should insist on Mr. Buckalew defining his position in a letter. If he intends to throw his influence for Greeley, and support him at the polls, let him say so.—Gazette and Bulletin.

Gratz Brown's Kuklux, says the Pittsburg Dispatch, are having it all their own way in Missouri, the Governor not making any effort whatever to suppress them and protect the inoffensive victims of their hatred. The latest reported murder at their hands is that of Marion Weeks, the postmaster at Rice Hill, in Reynolds county, who was shot dead while watering his horse in Black river, by assassins concealed in the bushes. The cause for this crime was that Mr. Weeks had given information to the authorities respecting certain persons implicated in the whipping of the Rev. Mr. Callahan, a short time since by the outlaws. This is the condition of affairs in Missourri, which has for Governor, B. Gratz Brown, the candidate of the Ku-klux for Vice President? In such an event, with bands of assassins about him, it is not difficult to foresee what Greeley's fate might soon be—and then, what, but the triumph of crime and anarchy throughout the whole South and Southwest? Do the people of the United States wish to run the risk of having such an imbecile and culpable Governor placed over them as President? Let them answer by resolving that Grant and Wilson shall be elected in November, that peace, prosperity and security to life and property may be ensured everywhere throughout our broad land.

Hartranft's Qualification.—The Philadelphia North American says: "From a private letter recently received from the proprietor of this paper in Europe we make the following extract:

"I forget whether I mentioned to you that while in London General Franklin (W. B), at General Schenck's table, and in the presence of Governor Curtin, spoke in the very highest terms of General Hartranft as a soldier, a man and a gentleman. He commended his gallantry in the field, his wisdom in council, his administrative abilities and his deportment, and expressed surprise at the opposition which was manifested to him."

We need scarcely point the value of such praise as this. General Franklin is well known in the United States as a man of keen sagacity, a brave soldier during the war and an uncompromising Democrat.

What Wrought the Change?—On the morning of the State convention, Forney published the following in his Philadelphia Press:

"For General Hartranft we have nothing but praise. He was a gallant soldier, and has been a faithful official. He is a radical Republican, and would make a good Governor."

What has wrought this great change? Simply this: Hartranft followed up the Evans fraud until it came out that John W. Forney shared in the plunder.

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, August 28th, 1872.

„HOME, SWEET HOME."

BY JOHN HOWARD PAYNE.

'Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home!
A charm from the skies seem to hallow us there,
Which seek thro' the world, is ne'er met with elsewhere:
Home! home! sweet, sweet home,
There's no place like home! there's no place like home.

11.

An exile from home, splendor dazzles in vain;
Oh! give me my lowly thatched cottage again;
The birds singing gaily, that come at my call,
Give me them, with the peace of mind dearer than all.
Home! home! sweet, sweet home!
There's no place like home; there's no place like home.

111.

How sweet 'tis to sit, 'neath a fond father's smile,
And the cares of a mother to sooth and beguile,
Let other's delight 'mid new pleasures to roam,
But give me, oh! give me the pleasures of home.
Home home! sweet, sweet home.
But give me, oh! give me the pleasures of home.

1V.

To these I'll return, over-burdened with care,
The heart's dearest solace will smile on me there;
No more from that cottage again will I roam
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.
Home! home! sweet, sweet home!
There's no place like home; there's no place like home.

MISS HIGGINS'S MAN.

For thirty years Miss Higgins had looked under her bed every night, and had never found a man there yet; still she looked. Whether it was fear that impelled that deathless research or a fatality that was beckoning her to her fate, I know not. It would seem, however, to be the former, for she had often been heard to observe: "That of all the abominations on earth a man is the most abominable."

Indeed at the informal tea drinkings of the allied forces of Chesterfield the three Misses Wheeler and two Misses Jones, she had excelled them all in the withering tone with which she would repeat: "Man: man!" and no one could breathe greater defiance at this foeman than she. It was at one of these tea parties that they had entered a solemn compact that, in event of Women's Rights giving either of these allies sovereign power of the nation, an Eastern law was to be by them imported and improved, and husbands buried with the dead bodies of their wives.

As Eunice Higgins well remarked:

"That would be an end to widowers pretty lively." And with this remark the Hyson flowed, and the wassail went on—with such spirits, that Aurelia Wilder, the most radical, added another clause: "That the children of widowers should be throwed in too, and not be a botherin' other women." This was also well received.

Now if one thinks Miss Eunice Higgins was a woman devoid of virtues and womanly grace, I pity them; they are utterly mistaken. She had assisted a drunken father through the world till he made his exit, sustained and supported a feeble mother, and three or four children older but more helpless than she, till the mother went home to her reward, and the children had found flourishing homes for themselves, with the exception of the oldest son, who had followed his father's footsteps, literally. Indeed, when one contemplates the specimens of manhood she had been most familiar with, her aversion to the sex does not seem so wonderful. She was not shrewd-eyed, but good and kindly looking. No home was brighter than hers; no farm better managed.

The night on which commences my humble history, Miss Higgins went to her room in unusually good humor. She had a tea-party. The allies had all been present, and admitted unanimously that such fragrant tea, such snowy biscuits and honey, such golden butter, such cakes and sweet-meats had not been partaken of that season. The scene of her benign victory rose before her as she took off the little switch of hair at the backside of her head, and pensively rolled it up ere she put it in the top bureau drawer.

She saw again the sinking sun shining in through the house plants in the window, upon the crimson drugget of the dining room; the snowy tea table with its silver and pink sprigged china; the admiring faces of her friends as they partook of her delicious food. But one memory disquieted her: "She almost mistrusted her lemon extract was losing its strength—the frosting on the fruit cake didn't seem to be flavored quite high enough." But this haunting matter was softened by the thought that "she could get a new bottle to-morrow."

By this time she was arrayed in her long white night dress and night cap. She folded up every article of clothing and laid it down at right angles; she locked up her breast pin; and then impelled by fate, she calmly advanced to the side of the bed and raised the snowy valances—gave one shriek and fell backwards on the carpet, hitting her head badly as she did so on a chair rocker. There was her man under her bed!

Miss Higgins had often fancied how she would awe such a robber, such a burglar, with her fearless and searching glances, how she would defend her property with her life. Let us not be too hard with her—she is not the only one of us who has found that it is more easy to dream of great achievements than to accomplish them. She is not the only one, who, at the first shock, has shrieked and tumbled down before adverse fate.

But Eunice Higgins was not one to wither away, before a calamity. Not long did she lie there; but as short a time as it was, when she lifted her head her man confronted her. He was a very little man, indeed, not more than seven years old, and small at that; very good looking and well clothed, although exceedingly disheveled and uncomfortable in appearance.

"How came you here, under my bed?"

This was the first question, but it was repeated before she was answered with drooping head and glances:

"I've runned away."

"Run away from where?"

"Who is your folks?"

"Father."

Here the dialogue terminated suddenly, Eunice Higgins becoming suddenly conscious that a night-gown and night-cap were not the proper raiment in which to entertain even so small a man. Out in the pleasant sitting-room, beneath the warm light of kerosene gleaming through rose geraniums, and the keener light of Eunice Higgins's eyes, the inquisition was continued. From which these facts were gleaned; that the boy, Johnny Dale, had been so tired with his father, because he wouldn't let him go to a circus, that he had run away.

It was early in the morning, he said and he had got a ride with a teamster and had rode with him till afternoon, so he must have come some distance. After the teamster stopped he had walked on, and coming to her door in the twilight, he thought he would ask for some supper; but there was no one in; Miss Higgins had gone a piece with her visitors." But the tea table stood there, laden with good things; he had helped himself generously, and then as he heard her step suddenly out side, guilt, which makes cowards of us all, drove him into the bed room, and as the step came nearer and nearer, under the bed. His unusual fatigue had overpowered him, and he had fallen asleep, and was awakened only by her scream as she discovered him.

Miss Higgins had found the man she had been looking for thirty years, but now the question arose what was she to do with him? As he had no designs upon her property or her life, she could not lecture him therefore. And as his courage arose, he displayed a pretty—a very pretty—face, surmounted by a mass of bright curls, in which shone to hen's feathers. Miss Higgins was very neat, but where is the feather bed that will not occasionally shed a few feathers, dry tears haply falling over memories of former flights?

Miss Higgins good sense, backed by her good heart, taught her that what her man needed now was a good supper and a bed. But in the morning the question vexed her. What was she to do with her man—should she advertise him. Again she questioned him in the sun-light dining room as he ate his excellent breakfast.

"Whereabouts do your folks live—in what place?"

He looked up mildly at her, with a large piece of peach pie midway between his plate and mouth, and answered obediently:

"Old folks' house."

"Who is your folks?"

"Father!"

The allies were called in; the stiffly starched inquest sat on Miss Higgins' man. The additional result of their over questioning being that there was every evidence that the father of Miss Higgins's man belonged to that corrupt and shameless sect—widowers!

Miss Higgins trembled.

"Had she not better dispose of her man at once? Was it not in a way encouraging widowers in their nefarious doings to harber these small men?"

She asked these questions with some relenting of heart, for already had the childish charms of her man won upon her, and it was with great relief that she heard the decision of Aurelia, the most radical of the allies.

"No! keep him here. Such a chance was seldom vouchsafed to the allies to teach one of these men—widowers—a lesson they would not soon forget. Punish that wretch, that unnatural widower, by saying nothing about the child. Let him think he is lost; let him hunt him up the best way he can."

The youngest Miss Jones—she was only forty, and naturally timid and apprehensive—suggested that 'it would be just like one of these men to come right here to Miss Higgins' after him. There wasn't anything that they hadn't the face to do. It would be just like one of 'em to walk into her settin' room."

Here Miss Higgins remarked with spirit:

"She would like to see him walk into her house. He wouldn't stir a step beyond the hall, and as for that stair carpet she was going to take it up and cleanse it, anyway."

This remark, which was warmly applauded, terminated the discourse.

Johny did not seem adverse to the arrangement. He was at the age when bodily comfort overshadows the mental. He appeared to have a great deal of affection for his father, but there was Bridget, at the very mention of whose name he almost gnashed his teeth. She was awful—she had shaken him, pinched him, pulled his hair."

Eunice Higgins' warm heart almost melted within her at the recital of his sufferings.

A week passed away, and daily had Miss Higgins' man gained upon her affections. She was the youngest child of her parents, and had never known the delights of childish society. She had dwelt so long alone, that to have that bright manly little face opposite hers at the breakfast table, looking out of the window, hailing her return from her short absences, his merry, innocent prattle and ringing laugh, was all the more agreeable to her than she would be willing to acknowledge.

She grew lenient to the boyish nerve of her man, for the best of boys have unregulated moments; looking benignantly upon him as he captured in the garden paths in startling proximity to her marrowfats and cluster cucumbers. She revelled out a long stocking, and out of one of her second best Morocco shoes made a ball for him; and when he lost it in her best meadow she herself boldly breasted the clover waves, side by side with him in pursuit of it.

So that pleasant week passed away, and one morning Eunice Higgins was called from her snowy dairy room by a ring at her front door.

Opening it, she confronted a pleasant looking man of about her own age. Woman's unerring intuition said to her "this is he." Here was the opportunity to wither him with her glances. But how could she when he looked so much like Johnny, just such a pleasant, manly look to his face. Eunice did not wither him.

'I have been informed, Madam, that there has been a boy, a runaway boy here—is it so?'

Instead of the prussic and vinegar that she had designed to have in her tone, the likeness to her man so softened her voice that it was only pleasantly acidulous like a ripe lemon, as she replied: "Yes, sir, it is."

"Is he here now?"

"Yes, sir, he is."

His anxious eyes so brightened at this, that she entirely forgot her carpets and her enmity, and actually invited him in.

No sooner was he seated than Johnny ran in with eager eyes.

'Father! father!"

He threw his arms around his father's neck, and kissed his bearded lids, and then, in his delight he turned and threw his arms around Eunice Higgins' neck and kissed her with the same pair of lips and still Miss Higgins could say in the dying words of the great statesman:

"I still live!"

"Mr. Dale was a man of means and a man of leisure. He thought the air of the little town exceedingly good. He obtained board for the summer, for himself and son, at the little hotel. But in Chesterville no air was so pure and salubrious, he thought, as the air of miss Eunice Higgins' parlor consequently he sought that healthful retreat often.—Johnny going before like an olive branch.

Day after day did Mr. Dale tread over the immaculate purity of her carpets and they were not taken up and "cleansed." Hour after hour did he sit upon her parlor sofa, and it was not purified with soapsuds or benzine.

And at last, one peaceful twilight, it was on the fourteenth day of September, at the close of a long conversation—both of the parties being, at the time, of sound mind—Johnny's father kissed Miss Higgins upon the cheek.

When I say that she did not immediately burn out the spot with lunar caustic, you may be prepared for the result.

The next week Eunice Dale, late Higgins, was ignominiously expelled from the allied forces of Chesterville; her name washed out in hot streams of Hyson, and still more burning indignation. But Eunice made a happy home for her man and her father, and rejoicing in their content and her own, she cared not for the "allied" proceedings. And thus endeth the story of Miss Higgins' Man.

Our Centennial Governor.

The following glowing and truthful pen picture of Gen. John F. Hartranft, that "Brave soldier and honest man," appeared in the Philadelphia Post a short time before the meeting of the State Convention last April. The Post is a Greeley paper; but supports Gen. Hartranft openly and without reserve. Every lover of truth and fair play should read.

It has lateley been discovered that our next Governor must be a centennial showpiece like Fairmount Park or the public buildings, and that Major Gen. J. F. Hartranft, the already indicated choice of the Republican party, has not the ornamental fronts requisite for successful exhibition. He is not a post-prandial orator—he is not a statesman—he is not a scholar—he is not acquainted with the wide and varied resources of our State—he does not know our people—and so on through columns run the reckless charges.

Personal detraction of an opponent is always a sign of weakness on the part of the opposition, and these eleventh-hour assaults on Gen. Hartranft, we accept as the best evidence possible of his strength. In a party view, however, they are extremely ill-advised, because they are directly manufacturing ammunition for the enemy. Every one of these charges will be endorsed and reissued by the Democratic papers in the next campaign.

In the old time it was supposed that the function of a Governor was to manage the affairs of State and take care of public weal. However, we will accept temporarily the modern statesmanlike idea of a gubernatorial centenary show-piece; and arguing from the premises of his enemies, we undertake to demonstrate that John F. Hartranft is the very best man we can select as the front of the Commonwealth for the centennial year, and that the depreciatory charges made against his character and services are ungenerous, unfounded and unjust.

First and foremost, when the world comes to see us in 1876, we will show them the man we showed to the rebels with such eclat for five long years of fire and death, and who, exactly seven years ago this very spring, when the converging armies of the Union were encircling Richmond with a wall of steel and flame, "led our great Commonwealth into the front rank." The story of Fort Steadman is one of the thrilling legends of the war, and friend and foe and stranger will want to see the chivalric hero of that brilliant day.

Next we will show in Hartranft a modest, thoughtful man, who knew so thoroughly the varied resources and the people of this State—who appreciated them so honestly, and proved them so well that when imperilled he took the field in their defence.

Next we will present him as a scholar and a gentleman. Of all the slurs on Hartranft's fame the charge that he is wanting in culture and intellectual ability is most groundless. For severe scholastic training and that force and solid strength which comes of slow years of academic and professional study, Hartranft has not his superior among the men in political life in Pennsylvania. Read his record. After three years of conscientious study at Marshall college, in this State, young Hartranft's health broke down, and returning to his father's farm in Montgomery county, after a year's rest he completed his collegiate course, graduating after a two year's term at old Union, in New York, a college whose alumni are scattered all over Pennsylvania from the Allegheny to the Delaware. At home again, he began at once the study of the law, and was just ready to enter the bar with flattering prospects of business and honor, when war bursts like a thunder storm over the Commonwealth. At the call of his country, "straightway he arose and went," leaving all. During the war Hartranft's military tastes and education turned his mind in a new direction. He determined to fit himself for a civil engineer as the calling best suited to make him useful in the practical development of the vast and varied resources of our Commonwealth. He had just mastered that profession and was entering on its duties when the State again called him—this time to the Auditor General's bureau. Such is Hartranft's excellent record as a man of letters. Solid but not pretentious, modest and never a showman of himself, Hartranft's scholarly attaintments and cultured power will reflect lustre and dignity on the office he is asked to fill.

Indeed, General Hartranft's collegiate connections are not among the least sources of his strength. A fast friend at school and college, he is warmly remembered by hundreds of clergymen and lawyers, and physicians and teachers, who watch with interest and pride the successful career of their old schoolmate.—The two colleges of which General Hartranft is counted an honored son, number some two thousand living graduates in Pennsylvania, every one of whom is his warm friend, and every one of whom is a local center of influence and power.

Next we offer a national man, and one in earnest sympathy with, and enjoying the full confidence of, the head of the National Government. Our Pennsylvania list of national names in political life is painfully meagre. On our military side we do better. Meade and Hancock and Hartranft are known wherever loyal bayonets have written the history of the war—two as the best product of our technical military school, the other as the type and flower of the volunteer soldiery that saved the Union.

Next we offer a model citizen, a man of irreproachable private life and morals. True at school, true in all his domestic and social relations, true on the field, John F. Hartranft will be true when in the Governor's chair he administers the great trust of the Commonwealth.

This is our choice for a centennial Governor, and where can you find in Pennsylvania a man who represents so comprehensively the best interests, the substantial character and the whole life of the State? Sprung from the very bone and sinew of the people; presenting in his own person those private virtues which are the foundation of all public security; representing worthily and happily the great brotherhoods of arms and of letters; trusted and honored wherever known; a man not of empty words, but of grand deeds; we present to the convention on Wednesday, on behalf of the loyal people of Pennsylvania, the name of John F. Hartranft, and challenge enemy or rival to—match him.—Philadelphia Post, April 9.

Greeley For Secession.

It should not be lost sight of by the prudent thinking men of the Union, (says the Boston Globe) that Horace Greeley is an open and avowed secessionist, and this fact accounts for his present position as the opposition candidate for Presidency upon a nomination made at the dictate of the secession politicians of the South. Mr. Greeley's friend and correspondent, Mr. Donan, of Lexington, Mo., who is the editor of a most virulent secession sheet, called the Caucasian, boasts that his paper was the first in the United States to nominate Greeley and Brown, and claims that its influence brought about their nomination at Cincinnati and Baltimore. The Caucasian is a representative organ of the reactionary rebel element of Southern politics, as will be seen by the following declaration which it recently put forth at the head of its columns as its political creed: "State sovereignty, white supremacy and repudiation! This is liberty! One platform. The Constitution of 1860, and the rights of the States! This is a white man's government, made by white men, for white men and their posterity forever! Down with the fifteenth amendment! Equal taxation and rightful representation of all the States, or another rebellion!" The claim of this rampant repudiator and rebel to be the originator of the Greeley & Brown ticket has never been disputed, so far as we have noticed, and there is every reason to believe it to be correct, for we find Mr. Greeley corresponding with this bold champion of the "lost cause," as long ago as October, 1871, upon the subject of his nomination as the Democratic candidate.

Mr. Greeley's secession doctrines were openly and plainly avowed in the Tribune at the time when the Southern rebellion was brewing, and their publication in that journal gave great aid to the conspirators as a means of persuading the people of the Southern States to take them out of the Union. In the Georgia Convention, the Greeley declaration in favor of the rights of secession was read from the N. Y. Tribune, by Mr. Toombs, as a conclusive answer to the argumenis of A. H. Stephens against the measure, and thus was the secession of Georgia accomplished. The article read by Toombs on that occasion, said, among other things: "If the cotton States shall decide that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace."

And further: "And whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in. We hope never to live in a republic where one section is pinned to the residue by bayonets." Such utterances as these were kept up by Mr. Greeley in the New York Tribune, from an early period in the fall of 1860, until secession was an accomplished fact; and they were put forth by this inveterate office-seeker against the opinion and advice of all his political friends and associates of the Republican party. The purpose of Greeley was, evidently, to put himself on the record in accord with Southern sentiment, and to cater to the disunion element, with a view to become the President of the Southern Confederacy. Finding that he could not accomplish this object of crazy ambition, to which he had sacrificed party ties, patriotism, decency and common sense, and that Jeff. Davis had snatched the prize from his grasp, he changed the tone of his organ, and begun to howl: "On to Richmond!"

The incendiary and destructive doctrines of secession which Mr. Greeley put forth for ambitions purposes, twelve years ago, he has adhered to ever since, at least he has never repudiated them. On the contrary he recognized them anew in his history, published after the war was over, and entitled "The American Conflict;" also, at a later period still, in a letter addressed to one Mr. Chesney of Troy, New York, and published in the Tribune in September, 1869; and again in June, 1871, in a letter addressed to his paper during his Southern tour, wherein he said that the Southern Democrats now proposed to vindicate the right of secession at the ballot-box, and "to regain as Democrats through elections the power they lost as rebels through war." During that famous tour, Mr. Greeley had a cordial interview with Jeff. Davis, at Memphis, Tenn., and probably learned from the President of the ex-Confederacy both what the Southern Democrats meant to do and how they meant to do it.

At any rate, Mr. Greeley is now brought forward by the South upon his old secession record, and is offered as a bonne bouche for the hungry Democrats to swallow. The Democrats can take him if they like the dose—Northern, Union, War Democrats; but they must remember that they vote for a rank secessionist, who is forced upon them by the hard necessities of party desperation, simply because he is a secessionist, and for that cause is available at the South. As for Greeley himself he counts upon his old record for his strength, and tries to delude the North with silly prattle about "reconciliation." But the proposed reconciliation is all on one side. The South makes no advances; the North alone is asked to go forward under the lead of Greeley and stultify itself to undo all that the war accomplished and reinstate the lost cause.

HON. George A. Quigley, a prominent Democrat from Philadelphia, and a Democratic member of the Legislature in 1871, is outspoken against Greeley, and challenges any Democratic Greeley man to meet him on the stump to discuss the questions of the day.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a MOST POWERFUL TONIC AND ALTERATIVE, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

DR. WELL'S EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA, retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

IS THERE WANT OF ACTION IN YOUR LIVER & SPLEEN? Unless relieved at once, the blood becomes impure by deleterious secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, Blotche, Felons, Pustules, Canker, Pimples, &c., &c.

Take JURUBEBA to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

HAVE YOU A DYSPEPTIC STOMACH? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the Blood, Dropsical Tendency, General Weakness or Lassitude.

Take it to assist Digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

HAVE YOU WEAKNESS OF THE INTESTINES? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations.

HAVE YOU WEAKNESS OF THE UTERINE OR URINARY ORGANS? You must procure instant relief of you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases. JOHN Q. KELLOGG, 18 Platt St., New York, Sole Agent for United States. Price One Dollar per Bottle. Send for Circular. 33-4t

—The inmates of the Lunatic Asylum at Harrisburg now number nearly 500, a considerable portion of whom were admitted within the past six months.—The establishment cannot accommodate conveniently more than 360 patients An abstruse calculation reveals the fact that there are just 140 uncomfortable lunatics in the State Asylum.

—The Boston Post having claimed Hon. Robert C. Winthrop as a supporter of Greeley; Mr. W., in a letter to Hon. J. H. Clifford says: "I shall give my vote for Gen. Grant. I certainly cannot support Greeley and the coalition. I can see no safety for the country in their success. Neither reform nor reconciliation could result from so unnatural a combination, but only renewed discord and confusion."

BUCKALEW REPUDIATED BY THE DEMOCRATS OF MIFFLIN.—The Democrats of Mifflin county held their county convention some days since, at which time they nominated a full county ticket. A series of resolutions were adopted, one of them endorsing their present member of Congress, Mr. Speer, but the names of Buckalew and Greeley were not mentioned in convention or by resolution. What is the matter with Mifflin?—Telegraph.

DON'T LIKE THE COMPANY.—Two old, substantial Republicans of Chester county, Dr. J. B. Wood and Samuel J. Parker, who were disposed to support Greeley, have, we perceive, concluded that they cannot stand the company they were getting into, and have joined the Grant and Wilson Club in West Chester. So it goes throughout the country. Others reported as going astray after false gods, are proclaiming themselves as resolved to march with their friends and companions, the "Boys in Blue," and thus keep step to the music of the Union. It is the only position in this contest that a true, consistent Republican can adopt.

THE CAMPAIGN.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, No. 716 WALNUT ST., PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14, 1872.

The Republican State Committee desires to congratulate the Republicans of Pennsylvania upon the noble victory recently won by their brethren in North Carolina. It was a triumph over fearful odds, and was won in spite of the fraudulent practices imported into that State from New York by the Tammany ballot-box stuffers, who now lead the Greeley army.

It has demonstrated that the Republicans of the Southern States cannot be won from the support of their principles by the oily tongues of the Republican traitors who were sent among them. Schurz and Trumbull, Tipton and McClure, may blazon their own treachery, but cannot win followers.

It has demonstrated, also, that while the men with grievances, the soreheads and the disappointed demagogues, may be able to make a great din over their own abandonment of their professions, they carry no one with them. The treachery they represent is only on the masses; the people are not infected by it. These men went out from us because they were not of us.

This inspiriting success in North Carolina was won by organization and persistent work. It could not have been won without these essential adjuncts.

It behooves us, therefore, to profit by their example. Wherever the work of organization has been begun in Pennsylvania, it has been attended by the best results. Wherever it has not yet been resorted to, apathy and indifference prevail. Friends! If this be the case in your county, break the spell at once and begin the essential work of the campaign. Waste not a day in waiting. Every day that this work is deferred is an opportunity lost.

We implore our people throughout the State, who have not yet entered into the spirit of this all-important contest, to remember the great interests at stake and how much may hang upon the consequences of their inaction.

Our intelligences from all parts of the State is of the most encouraging kind. In the few places where disaffection existed it is steadily disappearing, and the party is rapidly settling down into a compact and unbroken mass. The few men who have gone off to the enemy have made all that is possible out of their change of front, and henceforth must cease to have any influence in our ranks. These ranks are as solid and firm as ever, and nothing remains but to march forward to the victory that awaits us.

We are going to win this fight! Of that we have no doubt. The conclusive proofs of this are all about us. Pay no heed to the fables put forth as facts by our opponents. Regard all reports as false that point to any change in our State ticket. No change will be made. Our leaders are chosen, and under them we go forth to battle. Organize and work. Cast all fears and apprehensions to the winds. Put the croakers out of hearing; and with a long pull, strong pull, and a pull altogether, the work will be done to the satisfaction of all. Even Greeley, in his private letters, does not claim Pennsylvania—he knows better.

One word more. In carrying on this fight do not act on the defensive. The enemy is so vulnerable that our chief purpose should be to attack him at every weak point. Buckalew's record while in the United States Senate proves him to have been a disloyal man, the companion and counsellor not merely of traitors, but of incendiaries and murderers, who plotted with him at Niagara to burn and destroy the cities of his own State, no matter at what cost to the helpless and defenceless. Holcomb's letter, in conjunction with Thompson's, and his own Senatorial record, fully prove this. Charge it home on him, and give his defenders no rest from attack.

Blank constitutions for Grant and Wilson clubs, and poll-books for enrolling voters may be had on application to these headquarters.

RUSSELL ERRETT,
Chairman.

IT is well to bear in mind that if the State ticket is defeated in October, the disgrace will be with the Republicans themselves. Mr. Buckalew cannot be elected without the connivance of the Republicans. The Democratic party cannot prevail against the Republican party in Pennsylvania, by its numerical strength or by the superior righteousness of its cause. Every thinking Republican is as much aware of this fact as he can be of his own existence. In view of all this, private bickerings are now generally consigned to the limbo of silence and inaction, and the party is summoning its greatest strength for the decisive struggle. The moral effect of this is already apparent in the improved tone of the Republican press in every section of the State; for while the disaffection at no time has been so formidable as some have declared, there was much in the nature of apathy observable that is now giving place to vigorous campaigning.

A GOOD CANDIDATE.—"General Hartranft, as we have before said, is a good soldier, and a worthy man, whom we shall, of course, support, should he be selected by our State Convention."—Philadelphia Press, April, 1872.

NOT FOR GREELEY.

—One hundred and forty Democrats, have joined the Grant and Hartranft club at Petroleum Centre Pa.

—Two Grant and Wilson clubs, composed entirely of Democrats, have been formed in San Francisco.

—The Scranton Journal, a neutral paper has hoisted the names of Grant and Wilson at its masthead.—

—The Grant and Hartranft club in Coudersport, numbers 83 voters—three more than voted for Grant in 1868.

—In the towns of Chesterfield and Ausable N. Y., sixty Democrats have come out for Grant and Wilson.

—Three hundred Democrats of the 14th Assembly district, N. Y. city have organised a Democratic Grant club.

—Dr. Francis Leiber, a German, advised his countrymen to vote for Grant, and hundreds are following his advice.

—John L. Dubois, Esq., a prominent Democratic lawyer of Doylestown, Bucks county supports Grant and Wilson.

—Hon. J. J. Taylor, of Owego, a life-long Democrat, of great influence in Tioga county, has come out for Grant.

—The Bradford Reporter says: Hon. Geo. Sanderson, of Scranton, a prominent Democrat well known in this country, is out for Grant.

—The Anzeiger, the Democrat paper at Cleveland, and nearly all the German business men in that city, are supporting the election of Grant.

—Capt Samuel Fullwood, of the 102d Pa. Volunteers, a life long Democrat, of Pittsburg has enlisted under the Grant, Wilson and Hartranft flag.

—H. C. Bailey, of Tioga borough, who was represented as having embraced Greeleyism, is out in a strong letter for Grant, Wilson, and Hartranft.

—Hundreds of miners in the anthracite coal region, heretofore acting with the Democratic party, are forming themselves into Grant and Wilson clubs.

—The working men in Berks, Schuylkill, Luzerne, Lehigh, Carbon, and throughout the coal and iron districts, are unanimously for Hartranft and Grant.

—M. H. Cobb, formerly editor of the Tioga Agitator, publishes a letter in which he predicts "the utter defeat" of the Baltimore ticket. He was claimed as a Greeleyite.

—Senator Anthony of Rhode Island, was counted on for Geeley. but Mr. A, says he "will give Gen. Grant his earnest support, and has never doubted his re-election."

—The Ashtabula, Ohio Sentinel was claimed by the New York Tribune as a supporter of Greeley. The editor denies the "soft" impeachment. He is an ardent supporter of Grant.

—Hon. Geo. F. Talbot, of Maine, was proclaimed with a great flourish as for Greeley. He says. "Mr. Greeley's personal qualities unfit him for the Presidency. The country will prefer to trust Gen. Grant to fill the office."

—Hershel V. Johnson, a Georgia Democrat, refuses to be made a party to the Baltimore bargain and sale. If he must vote for a Republican, he says "he prefers one who unites magnanimity as a soldier to moderation as a statesman."

—Hon E. H. Rollins, of New Hampshire, was reported "for Greeley." He denies the "soft impeachment." In a speech last week he announced himself as decidedly in favor of Grant and Wilson; and imputed sinister motives to Horace Greeley.

—Ex Gov. Ichabod Goodwin, of N. H., was announced as a Greeley convert. The Governor writes "under the banner of Grant and Wilson, and only under its folds, can the country look for prosperity and greatness." A convert to Greeley, eh? Never a bit.

—The Rev. Dr. Bacon of New Haven, having been cited as an opponent of Grant writes to the New York Independent: "The choice is between the Republican party of the last fifteen years and the party which in four Presidential elections has been its antagonist. We shall deceive ourselves grossly if we try to believe that the candidates of the Baltimore Convention are to be elected by a new party, with pure and disinterested patriots for managers; or tha the Democratic party has been regenerated, and on its return to power will be found to have a new heart and a new spirit."

—John Brown, Jr., was announced by the Democratic papers as having joined the Greeley squad.—However, John dosen't believe it. In a letter dated Aug. 2d, he says: "It is a matter of surprise to me that you could for a moment suppose that I am in favor of placing in power that party which every friend of liberty and equal rights has found necessary to oppose with all his might these many years. If any other of my friends entertain such an opinion of me please do me the favor to correct their mistake. I am still, as I ever have been, faithful to Republican principles, and to the only party in the United States which it seems to me fairly represents them—the party whose standard bearers are Grant and Wilson."

THE WRONG MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

A GOOD JOKE ON THE NEW JERSEY LIBERALS.

CAPE MAY, August 20.—Last evening a meeting was called here for the purpose of endorsing Greeley and Brown. Jim Scovel was the head and front, and the only speaker with one exception.—They captured a colored man by the name of Jake Wilson, thinking him a Greeley man; he was invited to make a speech; he consented, and the following is the speech made:

"LADIES AND GENTS: I have been brought here to-night for the purpose of making a Greeley speech, but I am not for Greeley. Horace Greeley of to-day is not the Horace Greeley of twenty years ago, and I never will vote for any man who places himself at the head of a party who have been trying since its beginning to trample me in the dust."

They pulled him down, and Jim Scovel, tried to make a speech, but he found that the audience was composed of more than three-fourths Grant men, and every word he said against Grant was received with groans, and cheers for Grant. They found it no use to continue the meeting so they adjourned amid cheers for Grant and Wilson.

HARTRANFT.

Every day the best men in the State are coming forward and giving testimony to the honesty, fitness and competency of Gen. Hartranft. The best men in the State endorse and support him. The Lancaster Examiner and Herald says: Hon. Linn Bartholomew in an address delivered in Fulton Hall, last week, spoke as follows in regard to our condidate for Governor:

"I have known John F. Hartranft intimately—man and boy—for nineteen years, and I know him to be an honest man." Villified and slandered as our soldier candidate has been, by unscrupulous enemies, the undivided testimony of all who know him—whatever their politics—is, that he is an honest man. Men who served with him in the army—neighbors who have sustained the most intimate relations with him for years, all bear testimony to his unimpeachable integrity, and refuse for a moment to give credence to the charges of his enemies. Even his political opponents—men who will vote against him—repel with indignation those charges. They know him as a neighbor, and with one voice proclaim him AN HONEST MAN!"

THE examination of rebel archives at Washington (says the Pittsburg Gazette) discloses the fact that during the war Buckalew was something more than a rebel sympathizer—he was an active aider and abettor of the Southern rebels. Whatever the accumulation of evidence may be, nothing better illustrates this fact than the "camp meeting" of deserters and draft registers, that was held by him. He sent his private carriage to have them brought in, and such as had been imprisoned at Fort Mifflin for particularly rabid secessionism were given the places of honor. After the burning of Chambersburg by the rebels, and the terrible battle of Gettysburg, how delightful it will appear to have a person who sympathized with the rebels who came to burn and slaughter, made Governor of the State! This will be bridging the bloody chasm with a vengeance.

HON. Eugene Diggs, States Attorney for Charles county, Maryland, has written a letter to Hon. Benjamin G. Harris heartily approving of his position against Greeley as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and indicates his own intention to support the candidate of the Louisville Convention. And yet we are told that the Democrats are unanimous in their support of Greeley?

A NEW CANDIDATE FOR PUBLIC FAVOR.

THE NEW VICTOR SEWING MACHINE!

THE NEW VICTOR SEWING MACHINE!

BY ONE WHO KONWS:

A good sewing Machine I long have sought,
And tried them all but found it not,
Until the New Victor it came out,
And now I have one without a doubt.

It runs so easy and sews so nice,
I would not be without it for any price.
Its self-setting needle is so neat,
And everything else is most complete.

It sews through thin, it sews through thick,
And when you sew it never sticks,
So when you sew, you have no trouble—
I'd have a VICTOR if it's price were double.

READ! READ! READ

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL WHO ARE IN WANT OF A SEWING MACHINE.

The New Sewing Machine VICTOR has not its equal in the world for family sewing. It is made of the finest material and of most perfect finish, and no pains or expense is spared to make the Victor Sewing Machine, in all its points, fitted to meet the wants of every family in the land.

TWELVE GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE VICTOR:

1.—It is the only Lock-Stitch Machine that has its needle Self-Setting.
2.—All lost motion can be readily taken up in all its parts.
3.—The needle being Straight, and Self-Setting, much of the perplexity and trouble to new beginners is avoided, as the needle cannot be set wrong.
4.—It has a positive Thread Controller and Tension, which enables it to sew with equal precision, from the most delicate texture to the heaviest material.
5.—It uses with equal facility Silk, Linen, or Cotton Thread.
6.—It uses the same size thread on the under as on the upper side, and sews across the heaviest seam, or from one to many thicknesses of cloth, without change of needle, tension or thread.
7.—There are no springs or cog wheels to break and get out of order.
8.—It is the simplest and strongest family sewing machine of all the varieties now in use.
9.—Every motion is positive, and it runs light and easy.
10.—The shuttle is carried on an independent table, which prevents its wearing out, and at the same time does away with oiling, thus avoiding greasing the work.
11.—It is simple in its construction, and the most inexperienced person can operate and regulate it.
12.—Its price is as low as any other first-class machine, and should be tried by all who want a good, reliable machine. This new machine can be seen at the large Ware Room, where all are invited to call and see it operate. Having confidence that the Victor will meet with public favor, we are willing, when parties desire to purchase, to send it to their homes on trial, with complete instructions how to use it. Every Machine is Warranted. Traveling Agents Wanted.

MRS. IRWIN'S BUILDING, ALLEGHENY St., BELLEFONTE, PA.

COURT PROCLAMATION.

Whereas the Hon. Charles A. Mayer, President of the court of Common Pleas, in the 25th Judicial District, consisting of the counties of Centre, Clinton and Clearfield, and the Honorable W W Love and the Honorable Henry Dopp, Associate Judges in Centre county, having issued their precept, bearing date the 30th day of July, A. D., 1872, to me directed for holding a court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions of the Peace in Bellefonte, for the county of Centre, and to commence on the 4th Monday of August next, being the 26th day of August 1872, and to continue two weeks.

Notice is therefore hereby given to the Coroner' Justice of the Peace, Aldermen and Constables of the said county of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, with their records, inquisitions, examinations, and their own remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the Jail of Centre county, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 30th day of July in the year of our Lord, 1872, and in the ninety-fourth year of the Independence of the United States.

MUTUAL Fire Insurance.

The Mutual Plan guaranties to the mutually insured the greatest security for the least possible cost. The premium notes are the capital. On this no dividends are paid to the stockholders, but it is simply assessed to pay deficiencies arising after the payment of losses and expenses, which in the COLUMBIA INSURANCE COMPANY, during the total 12½ years of its existence, have averaged but 6¾ per centum upon the premium note, being lower than the rates paid in the best solvent stock companies during the same period of time. In insuring at stock rates, the insured must pronounce to himself that he pays every year enough—1st. To form an accumulated fund for emergencies; 2d. To pay large dividends to the capital invested in the Company: 3d. Runs the risk of a "Chicago fire" coming and whiping his Company out of existence. In a Mutual Company he keeps his own reserve in hand unti needed, and pays no dividend to capitalists. The mutually insured, being themselves the capitalists, look after the business, its character and its agents in all places, thus protecting each other. For Insurances or Agencies, address

REFORM LETTERS.

The following "reform letters from H. G." have been kindly furnished us by their author, who seems inclined to make us his organ, seeing he has no other:

CHAPPAQUA, June 18, 1872.

My dear Horatio:—Thanks for your congratulations. More harness leather used than necessary. I shall urge the introduction of elephants, cut a slit in their tails and hook your plough to it. You can insert a wire ring (for ornament) to hitch your phaeton to when you drive out of an afternoon. Hemlock sawdust and sorghum molasses—feed with a teaspoon. Yours,

H. G.

Orange County Dairy Association:—I shall have Jackson's equestrian statue removed, and a cheese press in its place in forty-eight hours. I think we can utilize elephant's milk—if they don't kick. I am bound that the girls in the department shall be up at five in the morning. The male clerks can live on whey and curd. Yours,

H. G.

Birmingham Cutlery Company:—Make me a big buzz saw to trim the shade trees around the President's mansion. Also send 1,000 window shades for the Treasury Department; the girls are getting freckled. Gratz will tend to the free trade petition. Tell the queen, for me, not to settle the claims till I'm elected. If she don't do it, then I'll attack London with Fenians and forty canoes. H. G.

Dear Mrs. Woodhull:—I'm dizzy. Was trimming trees to-day and forgot that I must not saw off a limb that I was straddle of. When it began to give way I slid the whole length. Am very dizzy as I am bending over. Bridget is mending my breeches. If you go west, sew up some cold beets in your Dolly Varden, and the caws wont bite you if you stand well up in the chimney with fresh fish. H. G.

ABOUT FROGS.—While extraordinary efforts are being made to protect shad and salmon, no one has thought it worth his while to invoke legislative action to protect the "contemplative frog." It has come to this "that a patriarch of the marshes can be enticed by the reddest of scarlet rags" to come forth and offer himself a sacrifice. The French raise frogs, coddle and feed them, and induce them to eat and grow fat, using as much of care and more of caution than the farmer with his growing shoat. Let us have laws protecting the frisky frog as well as the solitary salmon; to extend the frog season as well as the run of shad. Either are too costly for lank purses and stomachs. Let red rags suspended with concealed hooks be interdicted for three years, and then shall we revel in the gusgatory delights of the "water chicken," and thank a provident Legislature for pleasant provender.

GOOD SENSE.—It will preserve us from censoriousness; it will lead us to distinguish circumstances; keep us from looking after visionary perfection, and make us see things in their proper light. It will lead us to study dispositions, peculiarities, accommodations; to weigh consequences; to determine what to observe and what to pass by; when to be immovable, and when to yield. It will produce good manners, keep us from taking freedoms, and handling things roughly; will never agitate claims of superiority, but teach us to submit ourselves one to another. Good sense will lead persons to regard their own duties rather than to recommend those of others.

PATRICK Boyle, an employee of the Valley Iron Works, at Sharon, Pa., fell from the top of the hoisting house, on the 14th inst., a distance of eighty feet, and was so badly injured that he died in a short time.

THE Albany Evening Journal, speaking of the coming State Convention, says: The choice of standard-bearers will be made after a full and free conference, and the most judicious representatives of the party should be sent to the State Convention to share in the counsel. The outlook is full of cheer. With the right sort of a State ticket, supported by the right sort of work, New York will surely be found in the Republican column.

REFERRING to the possibility of the Democratic party coming into power again, Mr. Greeley said long since:

"Whatever chastisement may be deserved by our national sins, we must hope that this disgrace and humiliation will be spared us."

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

Below will be found the Resolutions adopted by the convention which placed in nomination Gen John F. Hartranft, Hon. Ulysses Mercur, Gen. Harrison Allen and the entire State Ticket. The Resolutions were written by that clear headed and efficient Republican—Russel Errett, Esq., and have the true ring. Republicans, workingmen and all honest Democrats, can safely stand upon this platform. Let them be carried out in good faith and there need be no fears entertained in regard to the salvation and perpetuity of the government either State or national:

1. That we reaffirm our devotion to the principles of the Republican party, and our belief that the continued existence of that party is necessary to the maintenance and success of those principles. The grand and fundamental idea of the equality of all men in political rights is not professed by any other party, and can be sustained faithfully only by those who are sincerely committed to it.

2. That the adoption of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States has not been sufficiently acquiesced in by all to render certain and secure their permanent incorporation in that instrument, and hence the administration of the government can safely be entrusted only to that party which is heartily, and beyond question, committed to them, and the policy necessary to put them into successful operation.

2. That we are now, more than ever, called to sustain the policy of national protection to American industry. If the laborer is worthy of his hire, and a fair day's work entitles the worker to a fair day's pay, we must continue to throw the protecting arm of the government around those who toil for their daily bread. The protective policy alone makes labor contented and capital secure. It renders employment certain, and pay ample and satisfactory; whilst free trade means that our laborers and mechanics must either work for lower wages or that our factories should be closed through foreign competition, and the workingmen of the country deprived of employment.

4. That the public lands belong to the people, and should be reserved for the people. We, therefore, pronounce most decidedly against any further appropriation of the public lands in behalf of corporations or individuals. All lands not sold according to law should be open to preemption and actual settlement.

5. That we demand a continued adherence to the policy hitherto pursued, under Republican auspices, in our State and in the nation, of a steady and gradual reduction of the public debt. The interests of the people require that the most rigid economy should be practiced in the administration of both the Nation and the State governments, and that taxes should be reduced in both as rapidly as is consistent with the honorable maintenance of the public credit, and the certain extinguishment of all the public debt.

6. That we are earnestly in favor of the earliest possible removal of the duties on tea and coffee, and urge the prompt passage of the bill for that purpose now before Congress.

7. That we heartily approve of the act of Gen. Grant in giving a trial to the plan of civil service reform. We demand that the plan, or any other that may be substituted in its place as better, shall have a fair and unembarrassed trial, that every effort shall be made to secure competent men for public service, and that honesty and incorruptibility shall be deemed qualifications as essential as competency and intelligence.

8. That the Republican party has given full evidence during the past eleven years of its ability to administer the government honestly, faithfully and successfully. It has, within that time, maintained the honor of our National flag at home and abroad; preserved the Union from disruption and restored it in its integrity; secured to all classes and conditions of men the rights given to them by their Maker, and having proclaimed liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof, has given to that proclamation the full effect to which it was entitled; and we therefore, in its name, claim from the people a continuance of their confidence, and fearlessly challenge their scrutiny into its acts.

9. That we point with pride to the record of Gen. Grant's administration of the National Government. Not only has the weight of internal taxation been almost wholly removed from the people's shoulders, but three hundred millions of the national debt have been paid off—a result never before attained by any other people under like circumstances, and for which we are indebted to the rigid honesty, strict economy and sterling integrity which the President has brought to the administration of a national affairs.

10. That we present his name for renomination to the Presidency, confident that the people will again rally to the support of the man who so nobly fought their battles; who, under the guidance through its struggle to maintain its existence, and who has since so successfully administered the affairs of the government as to command general admiration, at home and abroad.

11. That we will stand by the government in the foreign policy so firmly marked out and adhered to by President Grant. The honor of the nation, we feel, is safe in his hands, and the flag under which he never suffered defeat, will not be dishonored while he is kept in the front.

12. That we congratulate the people of Pennsylvania on the final accomplishment of the call for a convention to revise and amend the Constitution of the State and we earnestly urge upon our friends to see that delegates are chosen in their respective districts committed to the policy of incorporating in that instrument a clear and decisive prohibition of special legislation.

13 That we hereby declare our opposition to every effort to withdraw from the sinking fund of the Commonwealth, either by substitution, exchange or otherwise, any of the bonds, securities or moneys now pledged to it, and through it to the payment of the public debt of the Commonwealth, and our inflexible determination to preserve the same, inviolably, for the fulfillment of the Commonwealth's obligations.

14. That the oil producing, mining, lumbering and manufacturing interest of the State require protection from the efforts of dangerous combinations, and that such laws should be enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth as will protect said interest, both in their development and the transportation of their productions to market.

15. That the thanks of our party are due to Governor John W. Geary, under whose lead our principles have twice been successfully vindicated in Pennsylvania; the State debt has been reduced during his administration; our soldiers orphans have been carefully cherished and educated; and our laws have been efficiently and wisely enforced. Under the necessity of parting with him as Governor, in conformity with the Constitution of the State, Governor Geary carries with him in his retirement the heartfelt wishes of its people for his future prosperity and happiness.

16. That we present with peculiar pride and especial confidence of their success, the names of Gen. John F. Hartranft for Governor, Ulysses Mercur for Supreme Judge, Gen. Harrison Allen for Auditor General, and the gentlemen this day named for delegates at large to the Constitutional Convention. They are all men worthy of an active and ardent support at the hands of the Republican party, and we call upon our friends throughout the State to rally as one man to secure their triumphant election.

17. That the President of this Convention, in connection with the candidates this day nominated for State officers, appoint the chairman and one Secretary of the State Central Committee, and that the State Committee be made up on the basis adopted last year, and the two years preceding.

AN APPEAL!

To Debilitated Persns,
To Dispeptics,
To Sufferers from Liver Complaint,
To those having no Appetite,
To those with broken down Constitutins
To Nervous People,
To Children Wasting Away,
To any with debilitated digesti'e Organs

Or suffering with any of the following Symptoms, which indicate Disordered Stomach or Liver.

such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and difficult breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic,

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article! A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

Who would ask for more Dignified or Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience of it.

Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so week, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER
THAT
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Will Cure every Case of
MARASMUS,
Or Wasting away of the Body.
REMEMBER
THAT
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S
PODOPHYLLIN,
Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.
TWO PILLS A DOSE.
The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

THE REPUBLICAN FOR THE CAMPAIGN. CLUBS! CLUBS!

We are now about commencing another great battle for the salvation of the Union, and perpetuity of free Government, of Republican Institutions. We have the same enemy to contend against, the same party and faction that trampled the old Flag—the Star Spangled Banner, under their feet in 1861, and that fired upon Fort Sumpter. We punished them then for their treason, we must not permit them now, since they have assumed another shape, to secure through the ballot box, what they failed to secure through four years of bloody war—the dissolution of the Union, and the formation of a Southern Confederacy.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty." We must be active.

We must be watchful and ever on the alert. We must circulate papers and documents in order that every voter may fully understand the issues and vote intelligently in the approaching fall elections.

To this end we offer the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN from the 1st of August to the 1st day of December, 1872—FOUR MONTHS—for 60 cents to single subscribers, or to clubs of FIVE, TEN, TWENTY or more at 50 cents per copy.

Now, let our active energetic friends bestir themselves and send in LARGE CLUBS from every township and Borough in the county. IN EVERY CASE THE MONEY MUST ACCOMPANY THE ORDER. Get up the clubs. Send in the names and money.

—An eccentric gentleman, who died recently in Columbus, O., made provision in his will for the establishment of a "cat infirmary." The infirmary is to have rat-holes and rats for sport, room for amatory display, and exercise grounds, with several sheds on which the fierce grimalkins may wage war at will. Oddest of all, however, is the final clause of the instrument, which provides that the intestines of the testator shall be made into fiddle strings, and that they shall be played upon in the "auditorium" of the infirmary—"the playing to be kept up forever and ever, without cessation day and night, in order that the cats may have the privilege of hearing and enjoying the instrument which is the nearest approach to their natural voices." The will is likely to be contested.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL

PURELY — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

EUREKA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and a Life-giving Principle, a Perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition, enriching it, refreshing and invigorating both mind and body. They are easy of administration, prompt in their action, certain in their results, safe and reliable in all forms of disease.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain longun well, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: There is scarcely an individual on the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Typesetters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS twice a week.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are the best safe-guard in cases of eruptions and malignant fevers, their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect the humors of the fauces. Their Sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, either from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Directions.—Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wine-glassful. Eat good nourishing food, such as beef-steak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirit.

LONG.—One of the longest Cucumbers we have ever seen, was sent us last week by C. Stonerode, of Snow Shoe twp. It measured 17½ inches in length. Mr. Stonerode informed us that it was a Hartranft cucumber and was emblamatical of the pole that will knock the persimmons on the 8th day of October next.

WE KNOW.—We have at last ascertained the exact locality of the "big sun flower" of which every person has heard so much. It is in the garden of H. P. Treziyulny, Boggs twp. It contains seven flowers or heads, and is 17 feet high. This shows that Buckalew is a very poor specimen for Governor of the old Keystone. Do you see the point, Joe?

THE Sabbath School of St. Paul's A. M. E. Church, held their Pic-nic, on last Thursday. They assembled at the church at nine o'clock and marched from there to Linn's Grove, preceded by the Liberty Cornet Band. At the grove addresses were delivered by the Pastor Rev. A. A. Williams, and Elder J. W. Stewart, of Altoona. Vocal and instrumental music, innocent plays, and feasting were the general order of the day. The Superintendent returns his thanks to the committee and friends who worked assiduously to make it pleasant for the children and parents who were present.

REMARKABLE.—We have a remarkable snake story to relate and one which is, strange as it may appear, positively true. About two weeks ago to-day Mr. Jacob C. Walker, of Boggs township, was in the woods getting out timber for a new Church now being erected by the United Brethren in Christ, on Wallace's Run, when he found a bee tree. A few days afterwards he and Wm. Shank and Wm. Fetzer cut the tree, when to their great astonishment they found in the tree three blacksnakes, one of which measured 5 feet 10 inches, the other two, each measured 5 feet. These snakes had killed nearly all the bees and eaten all the honey. Not one particle of the honey was left. It was thirty feet from the root of the tree to the entrance of the bees. There was no other entrance whereby the snakes could have reached the honey. They evidently ascended the tree on the outside and reached the honey through the same aperture at which the bees had ingress and egress. Can any body beat this snake story and at the same time tell the truth?

For the REPUBLICAN.

THE Grant, Wilson and Hartranft Club, met in their Wigwam, on Saturday evening, Mr. A. O. Furst acting as President pro. tem. On motion, the Chairman of each Vigilance Committee in the different wards of this Boro. were instructed to certify in writing, the names of the respective ward delegates, to attend the County Convention, on Wednesday, the 28th inst. Mr. E. M. Blanchard, Chairman, reported all arrangements as completed for the Mass Meeting to be held in the Court House, on this (Wednesday) evening. It was then moved by Wm. P. Wilson, Esq., that the Wigwam be kept open every evening during the first week of Court, and the different daily papers to be taken there by members of the Club.

Adjourned to meet on Saturday evening, 31st inst., when speakers will be in attendance.

JNO. I. RANKIN,
Sec'y Pro. Tem.

[For the REPUBLICAN.]

BELLEFONTE, August 14, 1872.

COL. W. W. BROWN;—

Dear Sir:—The Democratic Convention held here yesterday, is among the things that were, and the good that will result, will show itself in the future. The usual amount of caucusing among candidates for the different offices was done. Combinations, factions and rings were all on hand. The strong objection that we have against the action of the convention is, that all the nominees with the exception of County Auditor are on this side of the mountain. If we were John Smith, of Penn twp., we would not accept it, for it is a gross insult to the Pennsvallley Democracy. If we will have all, let us have Auditor also. We trust that this side will turn out the full vote, for we fear the other side will not. The manner in which our nominations are made, will sooner or later bring defeat, and at a time when we least expect it. We always have too many candidates for the same office, thus factions and feuds grow, and tend more or less to disorganize our party. The two term rule has been broken in the case of Mr. Moran, and Mr. Williams nominated. Why was not Mr. Morrison and Grenoble treated in the same way? They are no more entitled to the second term than Mr. Moran, and as Mr. Moran has been cut adrift, so, also, should have been Morrison and Grenoble. Let us have fair play and no gouging, and then we are satisfied. A DEMOCRAT.

IF you want the worth of your money, buy your stoves, Fruit Cans, &c., at Wetsler & Twitmire's.

For the REPUBLICAN.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A melancholy accident occured on Thursday, the 15th inst., in West Virginia, resulting in the instant death of Luke McGuire, formerly a citizen of Centre Co., but for several years a resident of the above named State. The particulars as near as I can gather them are as follows: Mr. McGuire's occupation was boring for oil, and whilst lowering the auger into the well, some part of the machinery gave way, which struck and instantly killed him. He and his family had intended, in a few days, to visit their friends in this county. They came sooner than they expected; but, oh! under what different circumstances to what they anticipated! He, in his coffin, and she a disconsolate widow with four small children. They arrived at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Way, of Patton township, on Sunday afternoon, accompanied by two gentlemen and a lady, kind friends from West Virginia. The funeral took place the same afternoon at Ross' Church.—Truly.

"In the midst of life we are in death."

LOCUST.

IF you want good spouting, go to Wetsler & Twitmire. Their material is of the best and their work guaranteed to give satisfaction Terms liberal.

WE are confident that our amusement lovers will hail with delight the announcement of the reappearance in our midst of the charming and brilliant Coleman Sisters, renowned throughout the Eastern, Middle, Western and Southwestern States. The Sisters, three in number, are conceded to be the most versatile preformers in comedy, tragedy, burlesque, music and dancing, at present upon the American stage. Their wonderful genius, versatility and freshness is at once the surprise and delight of the thousands who have witnessed their performances. Mr. J. A. Coleman, their father, is an actor of twenty years standing, and is confessedly, a star in Comedy, as he is a gem among gentlemen.

The cast for Thursday night, in Reynolds' Hall, is "The Day After The Fair," a capital Old English Drama, to be followed with Musical Carnival, an Artistic Clog Dance, etc., concluding with the Dashing Comedy of "The Little Sentinel." Let those who tire of the insufferable common places of played out end men, and burnt corkism generally, attend the Coleman Entertainments on Thursday and Friday evenings. May we ever cease to love, if the Sisters are not the cutest and best performers now traveling.

Before proceeding to business, the President acknowledged the honor conferred in a neat and appropriate address, and declared the Convention ready to receive nominations for Congress.

Dr. E. A. Russell, of Unionville, then read the following letter from W. W. Brown:

BELLEFONTE PA., August 28 1872.

TO THE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Sir, and Gentlemen:—Having been solicited by my friends to allow my name to be used as a candidate for Congress, and having, in answer to said request, announced my name as a Candidate for that office in the 18th Congressional District, I now have the honor to State, that, on the 17th inst I reconsidered the question and concluded to withdraw from the canvass, for two reasons; to wit: First, because the friends of Jas Milliken, Wm. P. Wilson and Geo. M. Yocum Esq., were urging them to be candidates and not wishing a contest; nor to stand in the way of any one I told each of these gentlemen that I would decline and not be in the way of either of them: Second; because I had not the money to spare to make the canvass vigorous provided I should have received the nomination.

Thanking my friends for the way in which they have stood by me, the delegate elections showing to a Demonstration that I would have carried at least 16 townships—50 delegates out of 89 the whole number—I now withdraw, and pledge you to stand by the nominee for Congress whoever he may be and to give my untiring support to Grant, Wilson, Hartranft and the whole State ticket, believing that the Republican party is the party that saved the Government and is the only party upon which the laboring men of the country can rely for protection and safety—Look at its record.

Respectfully &c.

W. W. BROWN.

Messrs. Geo. M. Yocum, Wm. P. Wilson and James Milliken, were nominated a ballot was proceeded with and the following was the result:

Geo. M. Yocum, had.....44 votes
Wm. P. Wilson, had.....23 votes
James Milliken, had.....21 votes

No one having received a majority of all the votes cast there was no election.

It was then, on motion, Resolved that this Convention nominate Andrew G. Curtin, by acclamation, as our candidate for Congress. To this resolution was added the following, as an amendment: "That after said nomination we proceed by ballot to elect a person as the second choice for said office, and so amended, passed unanimously.

Andrew G. Curtin was then nominated by acclamation, and a ballot for a person as the second choice was proceeded with and resulted as follows:

FIRST BALLOT.

Geo. M. Yocum, had.....41 votes
Wm. P. Wilson, had.....23 votes
Jas. Milliken, had.....21 votes

SECOND BALLOT.

Geo. M. Yocum, had.....38 votes
Wm. P. Wilson, had.....21 votes
James Milliken, had.....23 votes

THIRD BALLOT.

Geo. M. Yocum, had.....42 votes
Wm. P. Wilson, had.....16 votes
James Milliken, had.....24 votes

Mr. Yocum having received a majority of all the votes cast was declared the second choice of the Convention, and on motion it was made unanimous.

The Convention proceeded to nominate candidates for Assembly:

J. G. Kurtz and W. W. Brown were respectively put in nomination, and a balloting had

J. G. Kurtz, received..... 45 votes
W. W. Brown, " ..... 35 "

(Col. Brown's name in this connection was used without his consent.)

J. G. Kurtz having received a majority of the votes cast was declared duly elected and on motion his election as nominee was made unanimous.

A. O. First, Esq., was nominated by acclamation for Constitutional Delegate with power to choose his conferees.

The nominations for Sheriff was as follows; Levi A. Miller, B. D. Brisbin and Geo. Alexander, and on the 1st ballot

Levi. A. Miller, received..... 53 votes
B. D. Brisbin, " ..... 7 "
Geo. Alexander, " ..... 18 "

Levi A. Miller was decided the nominee and his nomination made unanimous.

The nomination for Prothonotary was as follows: Henry Myer, Danl. P. Shope and John E. Murray, and on 1st Ballot

Henry Meyer, received..... 46 votes
Danl. P. Shope " ..... 12 "
John E. Murray " ..... 9 "

For Commissioner John N. Stewart, Thos. F. Patton, Henry Keller, John Boozer and John I. Thompson were nominated, and on 1st Ballot

John N. Stewart received..... 5 votes
Henry Keller " ..... 4 "
Thos. F. Patton " ..... 3 "
John Boozer " ..... 3 "
John I. Thompson " ..... 31 "

The following named gentlemen were nominated by acclamation for the respective offices for which they are named.

John I. Thompson, for Commissioner.
Henry Eckenroth, for Register.
Andrew Gregg, for Recorder.
Wm. J. Thompson, for Auditor.
Dr. C. P. W. Fisher, for Coroner.

OBITUARY.—Robert Proudfoot, son of John S. Proudfoot, of Milesburg, was born Sept. 11th, 1848, and was married January, 1871.

On the 5th inst., while coupling cars at Snow Shoe, his hand was caught between the bumpers and two fingers badly crushed, no one, however, thought of a serious result; but on the 16th inst., he was attacked with Lock Jaw, of which he died on the morning of the 17th.

He was a young man of a very modest and retiring disposition; but with a warm and generous nature he made a host of friends by whom he was sincerely respected and loved.

On the 20th of Feb. 1872, he united with the M. E. Church, of which he remained a consistent member until his death, which was cheered by the consolations of religion. To him, death had no terror. He spoke of it as calmly as of a journey, and of his future prospects, as one who had a full assurance that Heaven was to be his home. He leaves parents, brothers, sisters and a loving wife to mourn his death. That they have the sympathy of the community, was attested by the very large number of persons present at the funeral.

ANOTHER SIGN.—The "Beaver County Conservative," the only Democratic paper in that county, has hauled down the names of Greeley and Brown, and awaits the action of the Louisville convention, intending to support the ticket that will be nominated there. Its example will be followed by thousands of Democrats in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 21. '72.

THE STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENT.—Advices from the Southern States, received by the National Campaign Committee, and by prominent Republicans in this city, indicate that the strength of the movement for a straight independent Democratic ticket is rapidly increasing and is likely to have a very decided effect upon the future of the campaign in that portion of the country. The Republican success in North Carolina and the certainty that O'Conor or some other equally well known and reliable Democrat will receive the nomination at Louisville, have given an unexpected impetus to the effort which at Baltimore was pronounced fool-hardy, and which is now certain to become one of the most prominent elements in the canvass. The Democratic organization is most complete and effective in Georgia, but in Virginia and North Carolina a straight ticket will command substantial support. The movement has also taken root in this District, and a full delegation will be sent to Louisville.

FOR a real prime five or ten cent Segar, call at Green's.

THE Reading Times truly remarks: Buckalew is not popular with the Democratic masses. They remember him as an erratic Senator, both at Washington and Harrisburg—full of whims and crochets, and new fangled ideas. As a party man he was never trusted—indeed, he was denounced as a traitor to Democratic principles on numerous occasions by the Democratic prints; his hobby of cumulative voting was ridiculed, and his views in regard to constitutional reform were opposed by nearly every Democratic newspaper in the State. He was set down years ago as a political humbug, and he is no better now. He is really and truly the weakest candidate for Governor the Democrats have had for many years. His defeat is a sure thing. The Democracy cannot carry such a dead weight.

CORN Starch at Green's.

$100,000 is the sum which Charles R. Buckalew has drawn from the pockets of the people during the past twenty-five years in the way of salaries, to say nothing of the "picking" in office, such as $500 at one haul last winter in the McClure-Gray contest. Yet Buckalew is a "Reformer," and wants to be Governor. Verily Buckalew is an "honorable" man! But what will not "cheek" venture at accomplishing? With all his treasonable associations clustered about him "Thick as leaves in Vallambrosa's vale," he comes before the people of Pennsylvania and asks them to elevate him to the first office in their bestowal. Modest Buckalew, what would he not take, so that money might come into "mine pocket?"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

COAL Oil at Green's.

THE following Greeley speech was delivered at Davenport, Iowa, day before yesterday, under the inspiration of the "great Laberal victory in North Carolina:" "I was a rebel soldier—13th Alabama, Hill's division of Longstreet's corps, that was never whipped by any d——d Yankee regiment that ever marched! Hurra for Greeley! Grant in a——. Greeley was Jeff Davis's friend, and Jeff Davis is the best man that ever walked. Jeff Davis is for Greeley! Hurra for Greeley!—Any man that wants to have niggers voting is a bloody coward! Any body that says a nigger's as good as me is a thief! I'll live and die a Greeley man. Say, friends, ain't that right?"—Chicago Journal, Aug. 8.

STRAWS FROM THE POLITICAL FIELD—STRANGE NEVERTHELESS TRUE.—The rebel M'Causlin with a regular organized body of rebel troops burnt Chambersburg, first giving the citizens due notice of his hellish design. Could this man walk our streets unmolested to-day? Chas. R. Buckalew, Democratic candidate for Governor of this Commonwealth, while occupying a seat in the United States Senate, stole across the Canadian border to confer with rebel conspirators about putting in execution their devilish plot to burn Northern cities, sending their emissaries to do the work in the dead hour of night, without any warning to the inhabitants, and yet this man Buckalew, asks the people of the border to vote for him! Verily things have changed.—Telegraph.

THE rebel General Basil Duke has written a letter in which he says of the Cincinnati platform: "If it means that the Democratic organization has recanted a single utterance given under existing political conditions, or abandoned any principle of its ancient creed, which it is at all possible to embody in the legislation, or apply in the conduct of the government under existing circumstances, then I am certain that the Baltimore Convention, which in behalf of the Democratic party presented that platform to the American people as a proper exposition of the present Democratic views and policy, as well as the Democrats who have since ratified it have been and are all alike extremely insincere."

HOW TO GO WEST.—This is an enquiry which every one should have truthfully answered before he starts on his journey, and a little care taken in examination of Routes will in many cases save much trouble, time and money.

The "C., B. & Q. R. R.," running from Chicago, through Galesburg to Burlington, and the "I., B. & W. Route," running from Indianapolis, through Bloomington to Burlington, have achieved a splendid reputation in the last two years as the leading Passenger Routes to the West. At Burlington they connect with the B. & M. R. R. and from the great Burlington Route, which runs direct through Southern Iowa to Nebraska and Kansas, with close connections to California and the Territories; and passengers starting from Centre County, on their way westward, cannot do better than to take the BURLINGTON ROUTE.

"This Line has published a pamphlet called "How to go West," which contains much valuable information; a large correct map of the Great West, which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the General Passenger Agent B. & M. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. no-28-4-mo.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HON. GEORGE SANDERSON,

Mayor of the City of Lancaster Pa., writes: "MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS is extensively known and used, and so successful are its curative powers that it has become as familiar as a Household Word and a necessary addition in the medical requirements of every family. Having used it myself and knowing others who have used it with beneficial results I can only add that in my opinion it is the best remedy ever introduced for the cure of the numerous ills to which flesh is heir."

HON. THADDEUS STEVENS M. C.,

Recommending MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS to a friend, pronounced it the most wonderful combination of medicinal herbs he ever saw.

☞ BY ONE OF THE LEADING PHYSICIANS of Philadelphia city.—A careful examination of mortuary statistics establishes the fact that one adult person out of every six dies of consumption, and so alarmingly is this disease gaining the ascendancy over all other ills to which flesh is heir, that its approach to one's immediate circle is regarded with perfect horror. If you will carefully examine the records of Materia Medica you will invariably discover that the general want of success in treating diseases has not been a deficiency of pathological knowledge of the functions affected, but of a suitable compound that would act upon the disease and all the sympathetic affections.

This want has at last been met in the Bitter Wine of Iron, prepared by the celebrated Dr. E. F. Kunkle, No 259 North Ninth street, Philadelphia. This excellent compound can be taken by persons with the most delicate stomach without any debilitating effect always giving strength and largely increasing the nervous energy of the patient. In all cases of pulmonary complaints it is admirably adapted to relieve the severity of the symptoms in the advanced stages of the disease, or to arrest it in its incipiency. If you want something that will give you strength, a good appetite, build up your constitution, and in place of moroseness and a lack of energy, give you a brisk and vigorous feeling, try Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron. It has already received the meed of praise from thousands who have tested its virtues, and for many years maintained its reputation with unfaded popularity.

Price $1 per bottle. E. F. KUNKEL, Sole Proprietor, No. 259 North Ninth street, below Vine, Philadelphia.
